Further Issues:

The investor should note that the Issuer has the right to issue further notes from time to time so as to be consolidated and form a single Series with the Notes pursuant to Condition 18.

ADDITIONAL RISK FACTORS

In addition to the risk factors mentioned in the section on “Risk Factors” in the Offering Circular, the investor should also consider the following additional risk factors in relation to the Notes.

Suitability

- A prospective investor in any equity-linked Notes should be experienced with dealing in these types of products and should understand the risks associated with dealing in such products. A prospective investor should reach an investment decision only after careful consideration, with advisers (where appropriate), of the suitability of the Notes in light of the investor’s particular financial position, experience, objectives and other relevant circumstances, the information regarding the Notes, the particular Underlying Equity to which the Notes relate, any related transaction costs, and the creditworthiness of the Issuer.

Market Risks

- Investing in equity-linked Notes involves market risk. Changes in the price, level or value of the Underlying Equity can be unpredictable, sudden and large. Such changes may result in the price or value of the Notes moving adversely to the interests of the investor and negatively impacting upon the return on, or redemption of, the Notes. In extreme circumstances, the investor may lose all, or a significant proportion of, the original investment.
- The Issuer and/or its affiliates may enter into hedging transactions in the market to enable the Issuer to fulfil its obligations under the Notes. These transactions typically involve contracts for the purchase and/or sale of the Underlying Equity and the establishment of long and/or short positions in the Underlying Equity which may be constantly adjusted. The unwinding or adjustment of the positions in the Underlying Equity shortly before a fixing date may affect the NAV of the Underlying Equity recorded on such date. It is thus possible that this activity could affect the NAV of the Underlying Equity, whether by pushing it down to a level below or up above the relevant stipulated benchmark (as the case may be) or otherwise, resulting in the Final Redemption Amount being less than the original investment amount or no payment of interest or other return, or a reduced return.
- The investor takes the risk that he may not receive 100 per cent. of the original investment amount on the Maturity Date.
- Investor’s attention is drawn to the following (which is not exhaustive):
 - (i) No interest in the Underlying Equity. The Notes are debentures and do not confer on or transfer to investors any right to or interest in the Underlying Equity during the term of the Notes. Investors will therefore not be entitled to enjoy any other unitholder entitlement during the tenor of the Notes.
 - (ii) Credit Risk. As the value of the Notes is directly linked to the performance of the Underlying Equity, investors are subject to the credit risk of the Equity Issuer, the trustee, administrator, the investment adviser, sub-investment adviser, and any issuers of the assets in which the Fund invests in, to the extent that the value of the Underlying Equity may be affected by the activities undertaken by any of the foregoing persons or any financial or economic difficulties such persons may face. A change in the value of the Underlying Equity will directly affect the value of the Notes
 - (iii) Market Access Notes. The Notes are structured as market access notes. This means that although investors do not have any interest in the Underlying Equity, investors are nevertheless subject to all risks relating to the Underlying Equity (including but not limited to illiquidity of the Underlying Equity, equity price risk, etc.) as of the Issue Date.
 - (iv) Extension of Maturity Date. The Issuer has a right (which may be exercised more than once) to extend the Maturity Date to such later date after the original scheduled maturity date and in such circumstance, investors will only receive their Final Redemption Amount on such later maturity date.

- (v) Consequences of Change in Law, Hedging Disruption and Extraordinary Fund Events. Upon occurrence of a Change in Law, Hedging Disruption or Extraordinary Fund Event, the Notes will be redeemed at the Early Redemption Amount and the Early Redemption Amount is likely to be substantially less than the original amount invested and in the worst case scenario, the Early Redemption Amount may be zero. Such redemption will take place on any day determined by the Issuer and may only take place when the Issuer is able to receive redemption proceeds from the relevant Fund or when the Issuer liquidates its hedges underlying the Notes. Where there is a gating, suspension or deferral of redemption implemented by the Fund Service Providers or any other similar circumstances has occurred, the Notes may not be redeemed for a prolonged period and may only be redeemed after the Maturity Date.
- (vi) Fund Disrupted Days. Investors should understand the consequences of Fund Disrupted Days. There is no guarantee that a Fund Valuation Disruption or a Fund Settlement Disruption would not occur. The consequences of such disruption events may include postponement of valuation or payment. Further, if a Fund Settlement Disruption occurs and is continuing, the Maturity Date may be postponed for an indefinite period and no interest or compensation will be provided by the Issuer.

Risks relating to Fund

- The Underlying Equity of these Notes consists of units in a fund. It should be noted that neither the Issuer nor its Affiliates have the ability to control or predict the actions of the trustee, manager, administrator, investment adviser or investment manager of such fund. It is assumed that the investor has made all such investigations of such fund, including without limitation, as to the credit quality, business, investment objectives, financial condition, prospects or status of affairs as the investor considers necessary or desirable.
- Neither the Issuer nor any of its Affiliates makes any representation as to the future performance of the Notes either in absolute terms or relative to other investments.
- None of the Issuer or its Affiliates makes any representation as to any aspects of the fund. None of the Issuer or its Affiliates is under any obligation to make available any information relating to, or keep under review on the investor's behalf, any aspects of the Fund or conduct any investigation or due diligence into such Fund.
- Please refer to the Fund Documents for further information about the Fund and the risks applicable to such Fund.
- In particular, these Notes are linked to Underlying Equity which is a fund that will invest in a diversified portfolio of income producing equities, bonds and other securities through active allocation to, and within, different asset classes and geographies in the discretion of the Manager (and the investment adviser or manager and their delegates).
 - There is no assurance that the investment objective of the Fund will be achieved and that the investment strategies of the Manager will be successful.
 - In addition, investors will accordingly be exposed to a range of investment related risks which includes and not limited to equity market related risks, credit market related risks (including the risk of investing in below investment grade or unrated debt securities which is subject to higher degree of credit risks than investment in higher rated securities), interest rate risk which may affect the price of bonds and real estate market related risks (associated with the risk of investing in REITs and other property related securities), hedging risk and risk relating to Eurozone sovereign debt crisis, etc. There is no assurance on the distribution or the distribution rate or dividend yield of the fund. Distributions may be paid out of capital which represents a return or withdrawal of part of the amount an investor originally invested or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Any payments of distributions by the fund may result in an immediate decrease in the net asset value per unit.

Buy Back Arrangements

- The Market Agent may quote an indicative bid price for the Notes when the investor requests the Market Agent to buy back the Notes. The price at which such buy-back will take place is the Note Executed Price.

Potential Adjustment Events, Fund Merger Event

- If certain Potential Adjustment Events or a Fund Merger Event occur, the Calculation Agent may be required or, as the case may be, permitted to make certain adjustments or amendments to the terms and conditions of the Notes (and in the case of Fund Merger Event, such adjustments may include, without obligation, a substitution of the Underlying Equity or an adjustment to the Initial Fund Value). However, the Calculation Agent is not required to make an adjustment for every such event.
- In the case of Fund Merger Events, if the Calculation Agent determines that no adjustment that it could make will produce a commercially reasonable result, the Issuer will redeem all outstanding Notes, at the Early Redemption Amount. The Early Redemption Amount is likely to be substantially less than the original amount invested.

Credit risk

- The Notes are not secured by any collateral. The investor is taking on the credit risk of DBS Bank Ltd with respect to all payments due under the Notes and the Equity Issuers. For more information on DBS Bank Ltd, including its financial conditions, you may go to www.dbs.com where you can obtain its latest annual statutory accounts. A printed copy of such statutory accounts is also available upon request.
- In the worst case scenario, where DBS Bank Ltd defaults on its payment obligations under the Notes, the investor will receive no interest payments and lose his original investment amount.

Past Performance

- Past performance of the Underlying Equity is not necessarily a guide as to the future performance of the Notes. The value of the Notes can go down as well as up.

Potential and Actual Conflicts of Interest

- The Issuer plays a variety of roles in relation to the Notes, including acting as issuer of the Notes and Calculation Agent and hedging its obligations under the Notes. The Issuer and/or its subsidiaries and affiliates may also enter into, adjust and unwind transactions relating to the relevant Underlying Equity, whether for its or their proprietary accounts or for accounts under management or to facilitate transactions on behalf of customers or otherwise. In carrying out these roles, the Issuer's economic interests and those of its subsidiaries and affiliates may be potentially against any investor's interests under the Notes.
